Are big galaxies in Coma more likely to be giant ellipticals or UDGs?

- Large galaxies in Coma (> 2 kpc) don’t follow the canonical size-luminosity relations
- UDGs are more common than normal galaxies of the same size
- The apparent size-mass relation at the large end size might be a result of selection effects