

Standard Operating Procedure for Members of the McDonald Institute Community: Acknowledgement of McDonald Institute Support

Any research effort, public outreach, or research community program which has benefited from the support of the Arthur B. McDonald Canadian Astroparticle Physics Research Institute (i.e., faculty salary, HQP support, administration support, special funding, collaboration support, etc.) should acknowledge the support of the Institute when sharing accomplishments and research with the academic and/or broader community.

Author Affiliation:

Faculty, graduate students, and postdocs whose salary is currently paid directly by McDonald Institute funds, either through a Pooled Resources ticket or through a home institution that is using their portion of the McDonald Institute funds to support the position, have McDonald Institute affiliation. This affiliation as a currently salaried member of the McDonald Institute should be included in any publications. To include this affiliation, reference your host institution first, followed by the McDonald Institute, as follows:

“Arthur B. McDonald^{1,2}”

1. Queen’s University, 99 University Avenue, Kingston, ON, Canada, K7L 3N6
2. Arthur B. McDonald Canadian Astroparticle Physics Research Institute, 64 Bader Lane, Queen’s University, Kingston, ON, Canada, K7L 3N6

Funding Acknowledgement:

Please note that due to our multiple funding sources, it may be necessary to acknowledge McDonald Institute support in one of three ways:

1. Through the Canada First Research Excellence Fund (CFREF: 2018-2025)
2. Through the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC: 2024-2029)
3. Through both CFREF and NSERC.

When determining this, consider all the McDonald Institute support that may have contributed to the initiative, and not only the date of the publication or talk. If in doubt, acknowledge both funding sources.

Academic papers, publications, or other written forums, including conference or workshop materials, promotional and web materials, press releases, social media campaigns and other media materials; research profiles, equipment or facilities.

When recognizing the contributions made possible by the McDonald Institute, please use wording depending on the funding source scenario described above, to the effect of:

1. “This research was undertaken thanks in part to funding from the Canada First Research Excellence Fund through the Arthur B. McDonald Canadian Astroparticle Physics Research Institute.”

2. "This research was undertaken thanks in part to funding from the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada through the Arthur B. McDonald Canadian Astroparticle Physics Research Institute."
3. "This research was undertaken thanks in part to funding from the Canada First Research Excellence Fund and the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada through the Arthur B. McDonald Canadian Astroparticle Physics Research Institute."

News and Popular Media:

When speaking with news media during interviews, including popular media (radio, television, social media, and news magazines):

"This research was funded in part by the Arthur B. McDonald Canadian Astroparticle Physics Research Institute."

Be sure to tag the McDonald Institute in any social media posts so staff can share them!
